Hervey Street Underpass—City Should Sue Railroad

Every time I go through the Hervey St. underpass I have a renewed feeling of frustration.

Nearly 30 years have gone by and we are still stuck with the temporary wooden structure that was thrown together in the emergency of World War II. It has a dangerous center pier, and clearance is too low to permit use by trailer-vans entering the city from Interstate 30.

As far as I know—this is being written Tuesday night—no definite action for a modern underpass which the city is entitled to has been taken by local government.

Back in the early 1940s when Albert Graves was mayor, as I recall, Missouri Pacific appeared before the then city council and asked permission to double-track the main line west of the downtown area because of excessive switching demand brought on by the war. The city and railroad made a verbal gentlemen's agreement:

The city would grant the double-track privilege providing the railroad would construct an underpass at Hervey St., and, later on, help with another underpass or viaduct for the east side of town. This was the deal, but wooden construction for the underpass was stipulated because no steel was available in wartime—the railroad proposing to replace wood with steel when the latter became available.

Missouri Pacific was then in bankruptcy; but it was later declared solvent—and still the pledge of the 1940s was not carried out.

It seems, from where this writer sits, we have waited long enough. The city should make a final demand against the railroad and then go to court.

The matter is particularly urgent now since it is probable the railroad will be relieved of the obligation on the east side of town, since the Highway 29-4 access road to Interstate 30 will take over this chore.

Group Wants Development of 29 to Interstate 30

A group of members from the Northside Improvement Committee met with the City Board of Directors on December 14th. Arthur Stretch, spokesman for the committee, requested that the City Board work with the highway department to improve Highway 29 north. The group has already talked with John Tallant, Resident Engineer for the highway department.

It has been suggested that the highway from the North Industrial Site to Greenwood Street be improved as soon as the work can start. Mr. Stretch stated that his committee has conducted traffic checks at different periods of the day and on different days of the week and found that Highway 29 is carrying from 30 to 50 per cent more vehicles than Highway 4 which was improved about 2 years ago.

Mr. Stretch told of potential new development in this area that will not begin until the highway is improved and sewer is available. Mr. Stretch told the Board that details of sewer have been completed and as soon as necessary legal and bond work is completed that construction can begin.

The highway department has also been asked to improve North Hazel from Greenwood Street south to downtown. This work would not be as extensive as the work north of Greenwood Street as it would not become part of the East Bypass.

The Board assured the Northside Improvement Committee that they would try to do anything necessary to help with the Highway Improvements. It was pointed out that additional right-of-way would probably have to be obtained from Greenwood Street north to Dairy Street by the City of Hope. It is thought that the present right-of-way north of Dairy is wide enough for the requested improvements.

The City Board of Directors discussed and passed the proposed budget for 1972. The budget anticipates revenues of $676,010 and expenditures of $636,114, and an unappropriated balance of $76,896 on December 31, 1972. The budget includes salary increases of approximately 5 per cent for city employees.

Most revenues are expected to be about the same as 1971 except Health Program Revenues, which will increase because of increases in rates during 1971. Not included in the budget is the cost of two new garbage trucks for which money is being set aside each month.

Devaluation Will Ease Money Crisis

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has agreed to devalue the dollar for the first time since 1934, a move that could bring a speedy settlement to the simmering international monetary crisis, perhaps before Christmas.

The agreement, reached Tuesday in a nine-hour meeting with French President Georges Pompidou in the Azores, stripped away a major obstacle to settlement of worldwide monetary disruptions.

No percentage devaluation was mentioned in the Nixon-Pompidou communique, nor was the method of devaluation. But a high administration official said an 8-per-cent devaluation was "about the highest figure mentioned" and was "very much in the ballpark."

Should devaluation be accomplished by congressional action raising the price of gold, an 8-per-cent change would result in a gold price of $37.80 an ounce.

The official price of gold has held at $35 an ounce since the United States stopped redeeming paper money for gold in 1934.

In simple terms, devaluation would make U.S. products more competitive in foreign markets and imported products more expensive in the United States.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally said in an NBC interview Tuesday night: "I don't think the average American will ever really be conscious of it ... Te average American probably will not know it."

The formal communique was released as finance ministers and central bankers of the 10 richest non-Communist nations prepared to gather in Washington Friday and Saturday to discuss solving worldwide monetary disorders.

High-level U.S. officials indicated that firm agreement on currency revaluation will result in dropping the 10-per-cent surcharge the United States levied on imports Aug. 15.

Bill Forces Able-Bodied on Welfare to Take Jobs

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has handed President Nixon a political dilemma by passing the sterner half of his carrot-and-stick welfare-reform plan and perhaps jeopardizing passage of the richer portion he wanted along with it.

The action left Nixon with the choice of signing the bill and angering liberals, or vetoing it and angering Southern conservatives.

The dilemma was produced Tuesday when the House and Senate passed a measure requiring able-bodied welfare recipients to take jobs or sign up for job training.

To reduce the number who might seek exemption from the rule, the bill also would make more federal money available for such services as day care for children.

And to increase the work available at a time of high unemployment, the bill would authorize funds for public-service jobs.

The bill, approved by voice vote in both houses closely parallels provisions of one section of the administration's welfare-reform bill, stalled in the Senate Finance Committee.

The proposal approved Tuesday was attached as a rider to a minor bill by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., a Finance Committee member.

Finance Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., has strongly opposed the other half of the Nixon plan which would guarantee a minimum annual income of $2,400 for a family of four and would allow welfare recipients to increase their earnings without decreasing their public assistance by the same amount.

Conservative Southern Democrats have charged the guaranteed annual income, based on a sliding scale according to family size, would encourage illegitimate births and, by extending aid to the working poor for the first time, would double the welfare rolls.

Democratic liberals say Nixon's plan is far too skimpy in the amount guaranteed.

The Nixon bill passed the House, then stalled in Long's committee. Although Long now has promised committee action before March 1, passage of half the provisions casts new doubts on its fate.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., told newsmen that although the incentives of the Nixon plan were not affected by Tuesday's action, "Conceivably this could make some people less eager to pass the bigger bill."

Man Convicted of Voluntary Manslaughter

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Isom Pinkerton, 71, of Umpire (Howard County) was convicted of voluntary manslaughter here Tuesday in the slaying of his son-in-law, Herbert Parton, 43.

A Circuit Court jury recommended a two-year prison sentence.

Pinkerton had been tried on a charge of first-degree murder. The state had waived the death penalty but was asking for life in prison.

Parton was killed by a shotgun blast Oct. 31 following a dispute with Pinkerton over the placing of some horses on Pinkerton's property. The two men lived across the road from each other.

The defense had contended that Pinkerton acted in self defense even though Parton was not armed and was shot in the back.

$962 Million, 40 Million Acres Going to Alaskans

By JOHN KAMPS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to sign into law a bill to give Alaska natives $962.5 million and 40 million acres in settlement of their aboriginal land claims.

The bill, sent to the White House by Congress Tuesday, is a compromise worked out by a Senate-House conference committee, and is almost as liberal as one proposed by the administration.

The administration had recommended $1 billion and 40 million acres to settle the claims of the 55,000 Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians.

The claims to most of the vast Alaska land mass are based on ancestral use and occupancy and have been recognized since the U.S. purchased Alaska from Russia for $7.2 million in 1867.

The conference report, a compromise of bills passed earlier by the Senate and the House, sailed through the House, 307 to 60, and passed the Senate quickly by voice vote.

This climaxed 20 years of consideration by congressional committees of land-claim-settlement proposals. They began with a few million dollars and a few million acres, but increased sharply after discovery of oil in Alaska.

The compromise calls for federal appropriations totaling $462.5 million in 11 years and $500 million in royalties on mineral production in Alaska public lands. The latter otherwise would go to the state.

Most of the 40 million acres would be used for expansion of native villages in Alaska.

Dozen Hurt as Storms Cross State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least a dozen persons were injured Tuesday night and early today as tornadoes and severe thunderstorms moved across a large portion of the state.

State Police reported five persons were injured at Flippin (Marion County) when a twister touched down early today. All of the injured were members of a family that lived in a mobile home that was destroyed in the storm.

Three persons were injured at Everton (Boone County), one person was injured at England, one person was hurt at Hackett (Sebastian County) and "several" persons were injured at Stuttgart. There was a report of four persons missing at Marianna as a result of the storm, but State Police said the four were found unharmed at Harrisburg.

Police said no one was seriously injured.

Heaviest property damage was reported at Fort Smith when a tornado touched down shortly before 10 p.m.

Authorities said the roof was blown off the Continental Motel and the Sands Motel suffered moderate damage. The First Lutheran Church and the First Presbyterian Church suffered minor fire damage caused by lightening during the storm.

Windows were blown out at many stores, several planes were reported damaged at the municipal airport and power and telephone service was knocked out in a large portion of the city.

Officers said the National Weather Service had issued a tornado warning for the Fort Smith area about 10 minutes before the storm hit and most persons had a chance to take cover. No one was injured.

Minor damage also was reported at Texarkana, Hot Springs and Western Grove (Newton County), but no injury was reported in those areas.

A 400-foot community antenna was down at De Queen. Several trees were also uprooted in the area, including some in the city square. Barns and garages in the area were also damaged.

Some house trailers were damaged at Rowe (Monroe County) and wind damage was reported at Brinkley and Arkinkinda (Little River County).

The Weather Service reported eight funnel clouds at various locations in the state during the night. Every county in the state was either under a severe weather watch or warning at one time or another.

Major Quake Could Cause Tidal Wave

PALMER, Alaska (AP) — An earthquake measuring 7.8 on the Richter scale was recorded Tuesday night off the east coast of Siberia's Kamchatka Peninsula, the Palmer Observatory reported.

The observatory issued a seismic sea wave watch for Alaska's Aleutian Island chain, about 800 miles east of Kamchatka, and the National Weather Service in the Hawaiian Islands alerted its stations to watch for signs of a sea wave.

But a spokesman at Palmer said, "At this time we really don't think there will be a Pacific sea wave." He said the quake was centered about 1,700 miles west of Anchorage and was not felt in Alaska.

Japan's Meteorlogical Agency also issued a wave warning for Northern Japan's Pacific coast.

Seismographic instruments in Washington located the epicenter of the quake on Kamchatka, where a smaller tremor registered 7.3 on the scale Nov. 24.

Motion for New Trial

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A motion for a new trail for Daniel L. Graham, 32, who was convicted last month of first-degree murder, has been filed in Circuit Court at Fayetteville.

Graham was sentenced to die July 1 in the electric chair for the slaying of Gene Franco, 23, one of two persons killed June 18 during the robbery of a Springdale supermarket.

The motion alleges that Graham's case was prejudiced by pretrial publicity. The motion also contends that a number of errors were made during the trial.

John Lineberger, Graham's attorney, also asked in the motion that if a new trial is not granted an appeal be allowed to the state Supreme Court.

Flood Damage to Be Surveyed

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The state Civil Defense headquarters said Tuesday it was making a survey of flood damage in the state so that it could coordinate assistance required by counties.

A spokesman said Civil Defense officials were contacting county judges in affected areas to get an estimate of the damage. He said the response so far had been that the full damage picture cannot be assessed until the water recedes.

India Says Commander of East Pakistan Has Appealed for Ceasefire

UN Action Depends on British-French

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Hopes for U.N. Security Council action on the India-Pakistan war hung today on a British-French effort.

The two permanent members who abstained in the voting on earlier unsuccessful resolutions calling for a cease-fire and troop withdrawal were working on "a mild but open" resolution, a French source said.

The council met briefly Tuesday afternoon, then recessed at Britain's request to allow for consultations. A session was tentatively scheduled today.

In an attempt to avoid vetos from the Soviet Union, China or the United States, the British and French delegates were reported working on a resolution mixing a strong call for a cease-fire and political settlement in East Pakistan with only low-key mention of troop withdrawals.

The council was unable to act last week because the United States and China, favoring Pakistan, wanted to call for a cease-fire and withdrawal while the Soviet Union, backing India, wanted to call for a cease-fire and political settlement with no mention of troop withdrawal.

The French and British said they sought something which combined the reality of the situation in East Pakistan with the need for unanimous council action.

Poland put forward a resolution, calling for the transfer of power in East Pakistan "to the lawfully elected representatives of the people headed by Sheik Mujibur Rahman." It also called for a 72-hour cease-fire, followed by the withdrawal of all Pakistani troops and then of all Indian forces.

China indicated it would veto the Polish proposal, which also stood little chance of winning support from other delegations.

NEW DELHI, (AP) — The Indian government said tonight the commander of Pakistani forces in East Pakistan had appealed directly to the Indian army chief of staff for a cease-fire.

An Indian spokesman said that the Indian chief, Gen. Sam Manekshaw, sent an immediate reply to the Pakistani commander, Lt. Gen. A. A. K. Niazi, that he would order a cease-fire as soon as the Pakistanis confirm they will surrender to advancing Indian troops.

The message was received in New Delhi "through the American Embassy in New Delhi," the spokesman added.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Indian government put a news blackout today on its forces closing in on Dacca, but Indian ground forces were reported within four miles of Chittagong, East Pakistan's largest port.

Radio Pakistan conceded that Indian troops were "putting pressure" on Dacca, the East Pakistani capital which the advancing Indian artillery began shelling Tuesday.

The official All-India Radio said it had received no news from Dacca since reports Tuesday night that New Delhi's troops had begun bombarding military targets in the city. Newsmen in Dacca reported that the first barrages set government buildings afire and hit several other targets.

The Indian Navy announced Tuesday night its ships and planes had given Chittagong, 120 miles southeast of Dacca, a devastating pounding and "not a single vessel in the harbor can hereafter put out to sea." The purpose appeared to be to prevent evacuation of any troops that might be used to attack India's border with West Pakistan.

Radio Pakistan reported hand-to-hand fighting in Khulna, a river port 90 miles southwest of Dacca. Indian spokesmen had acknowledged fierce fighting there Tuesday, but there was no report of the outcome.

A doctor in a Dacca hospital said the wounded Pakistani soldiers being brought in were "more than we can deal with." But despite a pledge from the Pakistani commander in the east to fight to his last man, there were no reports of military activity by the defenders.

An Indian spokesman in New Delhi said Indian advance units were six miles from Dacca and that all three attacking columns were within artillery range of the provincial capital. India's heaviest artillery has a range of slightly more than 15 miles.

Hints Nixon May Not Visit Russia

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is playing with big diplomatic chips in seeking to link President Nixon's Moscow-trip plans to the Soviet posture in the India-Pakistan war.

The latest word is that if the Soviet Union does not act quickly to restrain the conflict, Nixon might reassess the wisdom of a recent agreement for him to visit Moscow late next May. There were hints that Moscow's future actions regarding the war might lead to reappraisal of the entire U.S.-Soviet relationship.

Such intelligence was made known Tuesday on condition the source not be identified. But The Washington Post reported in today's editions that the apparent White House warning to Moscow came in a background briefing by presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

The Post said Kissinger briefed five pool newsmen who accompanied Nixon to the Azores for two days of talks with French President Georges Pompidou. The Post said it was not part of the pool and learned of the briefing independently.

At the White House, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Tuesday night: "No U.S. official was suggesting or intending to suggest that the United States was considering canceling the United States-Soviet summit. That report is not correct.

An administration spokesman, who would not be named, noted that the Soviets three times in recent days vetoed United Nations Security Council resolutions calling for an Indian-Pakistani cease-fire.

He suggested the Soviet Union may have been trying to prove to the world that mainland China, to be visited by Nixon in February, is powerless to prevent the virtual collapse of Pakistani forces in the Eastern sector of their country.

The White House has gone out of its way to express strong displeasure at the Soviet vetoes of Security Council actions aimed at ending the South Asian conflict.

The most recent denunciation came at 1 a.m. Tuesday when Ziegler summoned reporters, some clad in pajamas, to an impromptu briefing session in the Azores.

Ziegler said the President strongly regretted the latest Soviet veto of an American-sponsored call for an India-Pakistan cease-fire and mutual withdrawal of troops from foreign territories.

It is suggested in some quarters here that Nixon's principal objective is to halt the fighting before India, a clear winner over the Pakistanis in the East, can mount a determined offensive against the heart of Pakistan in the West.

A presidential journey to Russia rates as more than just another summit meeting. It looms over the expanding range of U.S.-Soviet relations. No president has been to Moscow while in office.

Arkansas River is Reopened

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers said that beginning today navigation on the Arkansas River would be permitted again.

The corps said, however, that pleasure boaters and under-powered commercial craft should continue to avoid navigation on the stream until the water level lowers.

The river was closed to navigation Friday because of high flows due to torrential rains.

Elderly Woman Robbed of $500

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Nora Sherill of the nearby Ruttle Hill community was robbed of about $500 Tuesday when she returned to her home from Christmas shopping.

Sheriff Walker Wood of Independence County said the woman, who is in her 60s, told officers that when she arrived back at her home a man put a paper bag onto her head, threw her to the floor, took the $500 from where she had hidden it and fled.

No Winner in Pakistan, India War

In the long run perhaps there will be no real winners in the India-Pakistan war. Whatever the goals of the big powers and their client states in the subcontinent, the conflict can generate enormous problems for all.

—For India, military defeat of Pakistan could one day prove to have been a Pyrrhic victory, bringing more woe than gain.

—For Moscow, India's patron and source of military muscle, involvement creates difficulties in areas where the Russians have made immense investments. It also raises a touchy internal problem.

—For Pakistan, the nation's very survival as an entity is at stake.

—For Pakistan's current sponsor and putative protector, Red China, there are also special problems. Peking, in poor shape now to risk confronting armed Soviet power, probably is considering other means of dealing with a new situation in the subcontinent.

—For the United States, trying to extricate its military from Southeast Asia, the new conflict threatens complications.

India seems about to solve one problem—that of the 10 million refugees from Pakistan who can now return from Indian soil—by creating a new Bengali nation. It is on India's northeast flank, squatting on the strategic Bay of Bengal and bordered by India's own Bengali territories. Yet Bangla Desh—the new Bengal nation—will be incomplete if it does not encompass all Bengalis. What could be more natural than eventual development of a movement to join all of them together?

Ex-Governor, U.S. Judge Indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Otto Kerner, Jr., federal appeals court judge and former Illinois governor, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of bribery, mail fraud, tax evasion, perjury and conspiracy as a result of race track stock transactions while he was governor.

Three appointees to Kerner's administration, which ran from 1961 to 1968, and a Chicago businesswoman also were named in the 18-count indictment handed down in U.S. District Court in Chicago.

The handing down of the indictment was announced by the Justice Department in Washington.

Kerner, a Democrat, and the others were accused of conspiring to obtain about $356,000 worth of race track stocks for $7,158. The grand jury said the money was used as a bribe to influence Kerner's administration of horse racing in Illinois.

The specific charges against the 63-year-old Kerner, who sits on the Seventh U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, are that he evaded $84,129 in federal income taxes and made false statements to an Internal Revenue Service Agent.

Kerner is only the fourth federal judge ever to be indicted by a grand jury.

India Warns Keep Nuclear Ship Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — India has told the United States to keep the U.S. nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise and escorting warships out of the Bay of Bengal and has promised to give help to all foreign nationals seeking safety in the East Pakistan war.

India's Ambassador Lakshmi Kant Jha, making this known to newsmen Tuesday, said he had received reliable reports the U.S. fleet might seek to "establish a beachhead for the evacuation of not only American personnel, but also Pakistan army officers and men as well as civilians who feel insecure."

Jha said he had sought a denial of the report from Asst. Secretary of State Joseph Sisco but had failed to receive a satisfactory reply.

American officials continued their silence on activities of the 7th Fleet task force. Defense, State and White House sources have declined to comment on the movement of any U.S. naval forces.

But it was learned from authoritative sources that the American fleet is poised at the Straits of Malacca near Singapore awaiting instructions to take part in an evacuation plan if necessary.

At the same time, U.S. Intelligence sources disclosed that Soviet naval strength in the Indian Ocean is being increased to about 15 vessels. One force is 800 miles south of the West Pakistan coast. A second, smaller group is some 1,500 miles off the East Pakistan coast in a southerly direction.

Ambassador Jha said the Soviet fleet units "are not going to get anywhere near the zone of conflict. If they did we would be as sharp in our reaction as we are to reports of the American fleet activity."

He said India would consider as a hostile act evacuation of nonforeign personnel from Bangla Desh, the Indian name for East Pakistan.

He said India is not objecting to use of foreign planes for evacuation of foreigners from Dacca. India seeks to avoid evacuation of Pakistani troops from the East to reinforce Pakistani forces in the West.

Text of Proposal to City Cites Urgency

Hope City Board Of Directors

It has been brought to the attention of the Northside Improvement Committee that discussions have been held by both the Hope City Board of Directors and the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors relative to the underpass improvements on North Hervey Street which will involve a sizeable expenditure of funds, either Local, State or Federal.

This, if true, is rather astonishing, to say the least, especially since this committee had been assured by this board that, contrary to material published in the city's "Capital Improvements Program" Manual (Pages 12 & 15) "Any plans to consider making improvements on this underpass was "A Pipe Dream".!!

May we further point out that when I-30 was opened from Fulton to Highway No. 4 earlier this year, all I-30 traffic was routed through Hope on North Hervey and this underpass. It is true that this was not the most desireable underpass in the state, but, it did serve the need.

It would appear to our committee that, if the need was met when 12,000 to 15,000 vehicles per day was on that street, now that I-30 has been opened around Hope, with less thatn 4,000 vehicles per day using the underpass, we cannot see any degree or urgency in improving this underpass, this is especially true since so much needs to be done in other areas on accesses to I-30.

We are all appreciative of the street-highway improvements made on North Hervey Street last spring. It was definitely needed to handle the additional traffic created with the opening of I-30 to Highway No. 4

In the meantime, North Hazel Street, from the North Industrial Park and I-30 area into Hope has yet to receive any improvement what-so-ever. This in spite of the vast industrial activity in that area as well as Oakhaven. Traffic checks we have conducted, made at different periods of the day and on different days of the week, over the past two weeks indicate that North Hazel is presently carrying as much as 30 to 50 percent more vehicles than is North Hervey Street but has gone completely unattended as far as improvements are concerned..!!

The traffic pattern on North Hazel has been growing daily and will rise sharply as our new industries and commercial developments progress in the spring.

Last week, a delegation from our committee met with Mr. John Tallant, Resident Engineer for the Highway Department, and pointed out the need for immediate action to bring North Hazel Street improvements into focus with improvements already completed on North Hervey before any consideration was given to underpass improvements on Hervey Street.

Mr. Tallant assured us he would try to work out a program whereby his department could begin work on Highway No. 29 north from the entrance to the North Industrial Park to the intersection of Greenwood and Hazel. (This is the point where the By-Pass System cuts off-toward the Brick Yard to the proposed Railroad Over-Pass) Mr. Tallant further suggested he could do a "Betterment Program" on Hazel from this point into downtown Hope. This would more adequately serve the traffic needs at this point. This Betterment Program would make use of the existing right of way on Hazel between Greenwood and downtown with curbs and full width surfacing.

Mr. Tallant suggested that in carrying out the I-30 to Greenwood improvement as "Phase No. 1" of the already created By-Pass System it might well hasten the possibility of funding for the "Phase 2" part which would be from Hazel Street to East Third and, of course, would include the Railroad Over-Pass. He did remark that it might well take up to five years to complete this "Phase No. 2" portion of the By-Pass.

There are still other factors to be considered in the emergency that now exists on North Hazel-Highway 29 as a major traffic artery in Hope. One which is of major importance is the revenue producing values of Projected Development in this area. Currently one of the worlds largest hotel-motel chains, the Conrad Hilton, has an option on 7 acres of land on which they propose to build a 100 unit motel. This facility, when built, will cost in the neighborhood of 1½ million dollars with an assessed value of approximately $300,000. This would produce nearly $15,000. per year in revenue as against probably no more than several hundreds of dollars at present. Another major motel chain is now waiting on Street and Sewer Development in the immediate area before signing options for a 100-125 unit motel on what is now pastureland. Certainly an additional $15,000. In tax revenues on this rural property would be welcomed by our taxing agencies. Even a major service station, several of which are now either under construction or in the planning stage, will cost up to $80,000 when completed. This additional tax producing development will most certainly be an asset to our community.

The property owners in the northside improvement area are unanimous in the opinion that little or no progress can be made toward Commercial & Residential Development in the area of North Hazel & I-30 interchange until highway and street improvements are officially underway.

We respectfully request the help of the Hope City Board of Directors in obtaining some definite and immediate action to Highway No. 29 on North Hazel Street improvements equal to those already made to the North Hervey Street Artery in Hope. All proposed improvements proposed by your board are badly needed in Hope but we feel that no project proposed, or considered, at this point has the degree of urgency as does the North Hazel Street Project.

Others will speak on specifics, including a proposal for what could be done immediately to initiate action.

Thank you for your time & patience

Suit Against Black Panther Dismissed

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A judge dismissed a manslaughter charge today against Black Panther Party leader Huey Newton after the district attorney said it would be useless to try Newton a fourth time.

Newton, the 29-year-old Panther minister of defense, had been charged in the 1967 slaying of an Oakland policeman, John Frey.

"We can't try this case for a fourth time because we lack any new evidence and because it would be fruitless to have another hung jury," Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen told Superior Court.

If new evidence is found, Jensen said, "we would charge him again. We think he is absolutely guilty of the offense, make no mistake about that."

Superior Court Judge William J. Hayes dismissed the charge.

Newton, originally charged with murder, was convicted in 1968 of manslaughter and spent 22 months in prison before the state Court of Appeal reversed the verdict.

A second trial ended in a hung jury last August and a third trial resulted in a hung jury last Saturday.

ABC to Rule on Liquor Stores

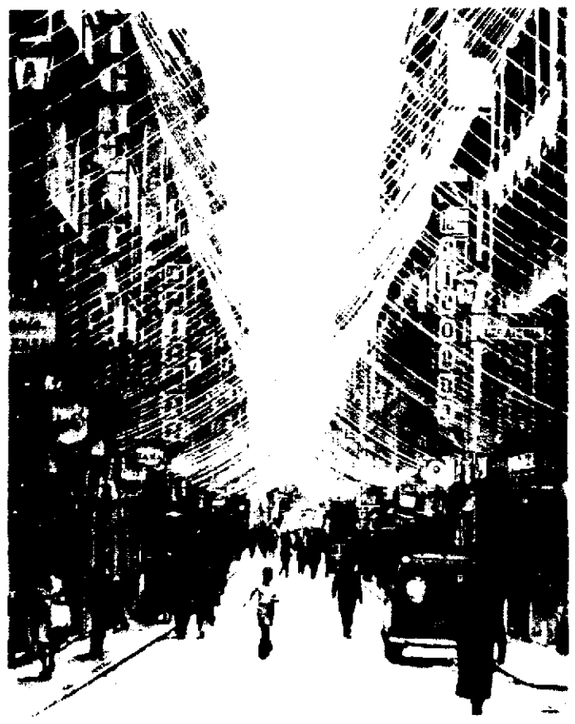

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. P. "Bob" Brumbelow, director of the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Division, said Tuesday he would make a decision within five days on whether to revoke or suspend the license of three Conway County liquor stores.

Brumbelow heard testimony Tuesday concerning alleged violations of the state liquor laws by the Petit Jean Liquor Store and Robertson Brothers Drive In, both owned by Elvis and Earl Robertson, and the Main Street Liquor Store, owned by L. M. Medlock. All three of the stores are at Morrilton.

The violations concern the alleged sale of alcoholic beverages to minors and intoxicated persons.

Couple Released by Red Chinese Appear Healthy

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rested and nourished on such typical American fare as hamburgers, french fries, and steak, Mary Ann Harbert and Richard G. Fecteau face a series of medical tests today to determine the effects of captivity in Communist China.

The examinations had been scheduled to begin Tuesday at the Valley Forge Medical Center and Hospital, 20 miles northwest of here.

Doctors delayed the examinations to allow Miss Harbert, of Palo Alto, Calif., and Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., to rest from a 10,000-mile trip that began in Hong Kong after their release Monday.

Both Miss Harbert, 25, a Chinese prisoner for three years, and Fecteau, 43, who spent 19 years in a Communist prison, much of it in solitary confinement, said they were feeling well.

Doctors said the two were tired but appeared to be "in very good physical condition," although Fecteau's ordeal left him withdrawn and cautious.

Newsmen were not allowed to interview the pair Tuesday. A State Department representative said the matter was entirely up to Fecteau and Miss Harbert and he was merely following their wishes.

Maj. Allen Yanoff, a staff physician at the hospital, said the evaluation of their condition was incomplete. He declined to speculate when they might be released.

Their first meal on the U.S. mainland consisted of hamburgers French fries, cherry pie and coffee, thanks to a hospital dietician who didn't have the heart to serve them scheduled fare.

That consisted of rice and pepper steak, a regular menu item at Chinese restaurants.

Col. Leonard W. Johnson Jr., commander of the 9th Aeromedical Evacuation Group at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines, accompanied the pair from Hong Kong. He said Miss Harbert "would probably be released first."

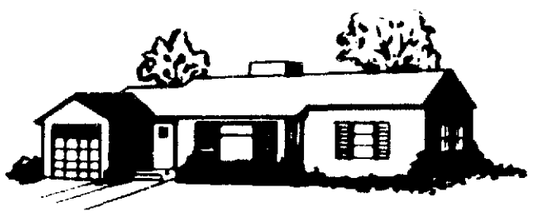

Johnson said "Fecteau will stay some time."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

THOSE CHRISTMAS BLUES

Dear Helen:

Am I weird? With every year, I hate Christmas more. It wasn't so bad when the kids were tiny and we got into the Santa routine, but now—it's just one terrible task after another. I start feeling blue after Thanksgiving, and by mid-December I want to crawl away somewhere and hibernate until the New Year.

Cards are such a hassle. They mean nothing—just an increasingly expensive way to say "I had to send one because I know you will, darn it."

And gifts! You give a stupid present because you'll get a stupid present, and who wants them? You worry because you may spend more (or less) than your friends or relatives spend on you.

Holiday parties? I drink too much to forget how tired I am.

I wish I could take a three-week vacation at Christmastime and spend it in the Fiji Islands or someplace remote and inaccessible, where I could forget all that junk.

Does anyone else feel the same? —YULE GHOUL

Dear Y.G.:

Psychologists say that Christmas, more than any time of the year, separates the neurotic from the happy-go-lucky. Those with a touch of misery imbedded in their psyches let it all hang out during their December doldrums. People who enjoy life may like it even better as the holiday season approaches.

Most of us are neither completely neurotic nor wholly carefree, so we all feel a certain dread mixed in with the Christmas cheer. But if the commercial aspect, the hassle, bad memories—and even the carols and reverence—turn you into a quivering zombie, then I'd suggest you take that trip to the Fijis, (or to a nearer place you can afford). You'll be a lot happier for it, and so will your friends and relatives.

There are days like today—with shopping still undone, cards unwritten, and a cold coming on—when I'd give a lot to join you! —H.

Dear Helen:

As the Christmas rush is upon us, I'm reminded of past shopping problems, and prompted to offer some suggestions which would apply year around, but are especially appropriate for this season:

1. When selecting purchases, double-check such things as size, color, etc., before you enter the check-out lane. Going back for an exchange takes up everyone's time, including yours.

2. If you are bargain-hunting, be certain what you have is the same brand name as what is on sale. If it's a "three-for" be sure you don't get four or two.

3. Don't expect busy store personnel to be experts concerning gifts. How do they know what size shirt a man wears who "is about six-foot and used to play college football" or what a six-year-old girl who enjoys climbing trees wants from Santa?

4. If you can't find the item you want, ask one of the clerks in the department. Don't expect the cashier at the check-out stand to know details about every department in the store.

5. Be sure, when paying by check, to have identification ready. Or...

6. Have your money ready for the cashier, and try to keep pennies handy for change-making.

7. For your own sake, be certain you save receipts. You can't expect an exchange or refund just because you have an honest face.

8. In all your Christmas shopping, try to put yourself in the other person's place. Do everything you can to speed things up because everyone else is probably just as tired of fighting the crowds as you are. —JOYCE O.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope leaves on his 21st overseas USO Christmas tour today following a "Thanks for the Memories" dinner saluting his 30 years of entertaining American troops in three wars.

"He is one of the greatest friends that the serviceman has ever had," Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, told a USO benefit at the Century Plaza Hotel Tuesday night.

The $500-a-plate dinner raised $300,000 for construction of a USO building in Hollywood.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., told the crowd that he, as a ham radio operator, heard from correspondents abroad about the good work Hope has done with American GIs.

"That is what America really thinks about," Goldwater said, declaring it was a different story from that told by "un-American people who publish un-American newspapers across the country.

The dinner featured a taped message from President Nixon who said: "I'm pretty busy with my own road company ... Bob is going to Vietnam with Miss USA and I'm going to China with Henry Kissinger."

(Editor's Note: A copy of the following letter to Rep. Mack McLarty was sent to the Star by Mr. Klipsch, who, it would seem, likes his sauerkraut uncooked and illegal?)

Sauerkraut Uncooked

"Dear Mack,

"Some of your predecessors in the Legislature, back maybe a score and five years ago, passed some kind of law about sauerkraut such that only cooked sauerkraut could be sold in this State.

"Now it happens that cooking sauerkraut completely ruins the taste.

"Tonight (11 December 1971) I had some real sauerkraut, the first I have enjoyed in 25 years. I had forgot what it was like. Crisp, mildly sour, just plain good. It brought back memories of when I used to steal it out of the crock when I was taken for a visit to my Grandmother's.

"Which brings me to the point. You could do your constituents and the constituents of any other political party a great favor if you'd dig up that law and get it repealed.

"I'm not going to tell you how I came by that good sauerkraut. It just might have been smuggled into the State illegally which goodness knows what penalties might threaten. All I feel compelled to say is that naturally made sauerkraut is a great delicacy, and the cooked, canned and processed stuff isn't fit to feed to a disposal.

"I hope you can look back upon the next session of the Legislature and say "I seen my duty and I done it". With or without correct grammar."

Sincerely,

PAUL W. KLIPSCH

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC went all out Tuesday for Christmas.

The network pre-empted its entire schedule, and the viewer who stayed on from the opening broadcast of "The Little Drummer Boy" through "The Coming of Christ" three hours later vicariously ran the gamut of the holiday spirit.

"The Little Drummer Boy" and "The Coming of Christ" both excellent programs, were repeats from other years. The two middle programs were almost as familiar: The annual Christmas shows of Bing Crosby and Andy Williams. Both are, after all these years, television institutions.

Crosby's "The Sounds of Christmas" came along first, looking a lot like a sparkly, family Christmas card. Robert Goulet and Mary Costa were along as singing guests. But what Bing called "The House Band of Casa Crosby" were the real stars of the show—wife Kathryn and children Mary Frances, Nathaniel and Harry.

There were ornate settings with a decroated Christmas tree, frosted window panes and other traditional trimmings, but the hour had a pleasant amateur quality about it.

Andy Williams opened his family hour, which followed, listening to the final strains of Bing's inevitable "White Christmas." Then on came the Williams clan, another trimmed tree, burning candles, snowflakes and even a little skiing and snow shoeing on stage.

Andy's hour actually was a bit more artful and slick than Bing's special. The four Williams brothers had a couple of numbers. There was a short family production of the story of Andre the toymaker who got amnesia on Christmas Eve. This was mostly filler, for the appealing scenes were those with the Williams children and of the family—joined by the Lennon Sisters—sitting around a holiday-set table. Claudine Longet, sang a song in her whispery appealing voice and in contrast there was some broad comedy.

Except for a slight overlapping of "White Christmas" there was no conflict in the Christmas songs. Andy's hour moved abit more in the general direction of peace and the joys of family togetherness while Bing's show was full of jolly sleigh bells and more religious music.

Together the Crosby-Williams shows provided two handsome, tuneful and warm hours of family entertainment.

It was a most enjoyable evening, but it is the kind of thing that should be taken sparingly. A little goes a long way, like a whole year.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Nitroglycerin Pills And Heart Disease

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—In your column, you talked about nitroglycerin tablets, uses and cautions. You stated that it should not be taken if a heart attack is coming on because it then could cause shock and death.

A month ago, my father died of a heart attack. Written on the certificate was myocardcial infraction as the cause of death.

My father started feeling poorly on Thursday evening and between that night and Friday night when he died, he took four nitroglycerin tablets.

He had been taking them for a few years, especially for walking. But he ran out and called his doctor and she prescribed them over the phone that night.

Needless to say, I am very upset and realize that those four pills most likely killed him. He might have survived the heart attack as he had previously. But certainly not after four pills.

My question is how do I find out more about this and do you advise me questioning his doctor for incompetency?

I realize I am asking you a delicate question concerning a fellow doctor but I believe there is gross incompetency here and it may happen to another person.

Dear Reader — Your father's doctor probably had good reason to prescribe nitroglycerin. You see, your father was not a person who suddenly started having chest pain and had not been having trouble. That makes a great deal of difference. Obviously, from your letter he had been having angina (chest pains) for several years and had been able to prevent pain when walking and probably relieve pain by taking nitroglycerin tablets. This is quite a different situation than if he had not been having trouble for months or years and then developed chest pain.

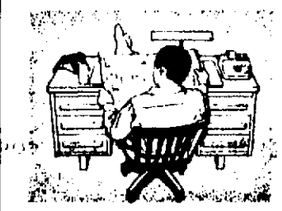

Since he had been taking nitroglycerin regularly, your father's doctor quite properly prescribed a refill of his prescription. Now four nitroglycerin tablets over a 24-hour period is not an unusually large dose.

It is doubtful if anything could have been done that would have prevented the loss of your father—since he obviously had fairly severe heart disease of long duration if he had been taking nitro tablets to walk. It is possible that he was lulled into a false sense of security from past relief with nitroglycerin and didn't call his doctor back when he didn't get relief.

My best advice to you would be to go see your father's doctor and discuss the problem with her. You'll feel better. Coronary artery disease causing heart attacks is very unpredictable and sudden death is a frequent complication, even without symptoms. If you are still not satisfied you can ask the county medical society to have their grievance committee look into the problem.

Hope Cagers Drop Pair of Games to Prescott

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

For three full quarters and then some the Hope Bobcats fought to the kilt, before finally succumbing to the Prescott Curley Wolves, 74-61.

Thursday afternoon at Jones Field House, the Bobkittens and Kittycats host Prescott in a pair of afternoon games, beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Although the Bobcats took the ball first, Prescott was the first to score, pulling away with a quick 4-0 margin, before Buddy Ingram and James Bradley hit successive free throws with a little over five minutes left in the first period.

From there on through the period, a fierce scoring dual took place with Ingram and David Briggs pacing the Bobcats and Ted Martin pacing Prescott.

With the score knotted at 15-all, Hope fell behind from the outset of the second period, but took over the lead with 2:23 left in the first half, on a pass from Ingram to Briggs, who was under the goal. Two more goals, a jumper by Bill Rowland and a driving layup by Briggs, pushed the Cats to a 34-31 halftime lead.

Starting the second half in fine fashion, Hope kept their lead anywhere from one to five points, using the hot shooting of Ingram and Jimmy Smith.

A last second field goal by Martin chopped the Hope lead to one, as the Bobcats moved into the final period with a slim, 53-52, margin.

However, the lead now changed hands and it was the Bobcats playing catchup ball. But with 4:36 left, after Larry Morrison had chipped in a short field goal to even the score at 59 each, Hope fell behind for good.

Leading scorers in the game were Ingram and Briggs for Hope, with 19 and 14 points respectively, while Martin led the Curley Wolves with 27 points.

Earlier, the Ladycats fell behind early in the game and never could recover as they went down in a stinging 75-55 defeat at the hands of the Wolverettes.

Shots by Janet McCain and Dee Singleton gave Hope most of their points, but Prescott had greater luck as they hung up a 21-11 lead on the scoreboard after the end of the first period.

As the second period proceeded, the Wolverettes doubled the score in the one period alone, outscoring Hope 24-12, to take a commanding 45-23, halftime margin.

During the second half, both teams played on almost even terms with both benches using practically all the reserves.

Hope scored first after taking the tipoff, with McCain sinking a free shot. Then, using points by Betty Rodden, Carol Hobson, and Dorothy Stevenson, Hope put 11 points through the hoop to total up 35 after three quarters, but Prescott still led with 56.

Using mostly reserve strength, the Ladycats scored mostly on points by Rodden and Stevenson, with different sets of guards working on the defensive side of the court during the final period.

Singleton hit 15 points, McCain sank 13, Rodden hit 12, and Stevenson drilled in eight for Hope, while Pruitt hit 28 for Prescott.

Handbook of Cliches for Coaches, Players

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Maybe there's a "Handbook of Cliches" for coaches and athletes.

Coaches and players often speak in such shop-worn phrases that some wags speculate that they refer to perhaps a handy, pocket-sized edition of such a publication.

If so, a companion volume, "Interpreting Cliches," should be printed. Something like this:

"He's a valuable man to have around." — His dad is a big scholarship donor.

"He's a wiley veteran." —He knows how to cheat without getting caught.

"Football is his life." —He's a weirdo.

"He gives us real leadership." — He knows a shortcut to the beer hall.

"Their record is misleading." — It should have been worse.

"He needs a year on the redshirt team." — Maybe in 12 months he'll get lost.

"Their linebackers come on strong and they're active." — You should see them down at the topless joint.

"He doesn't have great speed, but he's always there first." — He's No. 1 in the lunch line.

"I can't think of any reason why I would want to leave here." — Make me an offer.

"Having the band and cheerleaders make the trip means a great deal." — Our boys don't have to worry about getting dates.

"The home crowd really makes a difference." — A sellout means larger gate receipts.

"The school has a great tradition." — It's a burying ground for coaches.

"There are things more important than winning." — But, I can't think of any.

"He gives 110 per cent." —Of course, 110 per cent of nothing is still zero.

"They always get high for us." — Little good it does them.

"He made several unforgettable plays." — They still give me nightmares.

"Our defense plays as a unit." — Although I did lead the tackle chart.

"The offensive line deserves all the credit." — Make sure you spell my name with two Ts.

"We're not taking them lightly." — Yes, the team picnic is scheduled for the half.

"We have a great deal of respect for their coaches."—Their team is a pushover.

"This is the finest bunch of young men I've ever been around." — I just wish some of them were athletes.

Figures Arkansas Over Tennessee

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come, the walrus said, the time that tries men's souls; the regular season's dead and gone, it's time to pick the bowls.

Saturday, Dec. 18

Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Iowa State (8-3) vs. Louisiana State (8-3)—First bowl game ever for the Iowans, who scored 147 points in their final three contests. LSU allowed only 18 in its final three. Both teams on three-game winning streaks. Make it four for ... LSU.

Pasadena Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., Memphis State (4-6) vs. San Jose State (5-5-1)—Your guess is as good as mine. Ergo, by comparative scores, it was Houston 34-20 over San Jose and 35-7 over Memphis.

The winnah ... SAN JOSE STATE.

Monday, Dec. 20

Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., Arkansas (8-2-1) vs Tennessee (9-2)—Bill Battle's only losses in two seasons as the country's youngest head coach were to veteran rivals—Auburn's Shug Jordan (twice) and Alabama's Bear Bryant. Why not Frank Broyles? ARKANSAS.

Monday, Dec. 27

Fiesta Bowl at Tempe, Ariz., Florida State's defense hasn't allowed more than 18 points in a game and Arizona State's offense hasn't scored fewer than 18. ARIZONA STATE.

Tuesday, Dec. 28

Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Toledo (11-0) vs. Richmond (5-5—Toledo trying to complete a third straight perfect season. Holy ... TOLEDO!

Thursday, Dec. 30

Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Mississippi (9-2) vs. Georgia Tech (6-5)—This one's in Atlanta, home of ... GEORGIA TECH.

Friday, Dec. 31

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., North Carolina (9-2) vs. Georgia (10-1)—Brotherly love? Hardly, even though pairing of UNC's Bill Dooley and Georgia's Vince Dooley marks the first time brother has faced coaching brother in any bowl. "Like all brothers," says Bill, "Vince and I have been scrapping all our lives. We may as well continue in a bowl game." GEORGIA.

Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Tex., Colorado (9-2) vs. Houston (9-2)—Colorado has lost only to Nebraska and Oklahoma ... and HOUSTON.

Saturday, Jan. 1

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, La., Auburn (9-1) vs. Oklahoma (10-1)—Auburn's All-American passing quarterback (Pat Sullivan) against Oklahoma's running quarterback (Jack Mildren). Alabama's Wishbone destroyed Auburn and now comes the king of them all. OKLAHOMA.

Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., Penn State (10-1) vs. Texas (8-2)—At last, Penn State against Texas. What a match this would have been two years ago. Watch for running duel between State's Lydell Mitchell and Jim Bertelsen of ... TEXAS.

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., Michigan (11-0) vs. Stanford (8-3)—Forewarned by Ohio State's misfortunes against Stanford last year, the Wolverines should make this a happier California journey for Coach Bo Schembechler than two years ago. MICHIGAN.

Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., Nebraska (12-0) vs. Alabama (11-0) — What a way to usher in the new year. Nebraska returns to the scene where it won the national championship a year ago by defeating Louisiana State after Texas and Ohio State lost earlier bowl games. Bob Devaney eager for revenge against Bear Bryant following two bowl embarrassments in mid-1960s. Alabama has Oklahoma's Wishbone but doesn't have Oklahoma's outside speed to worry ... NEBRASKA.

Lakers Win Again But So Do Bucks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Are the Milwaukee Bucks, holders of the National Basketball Association record for consecutive victories before Los Angeles broke it recently, getting jealous of the Lakers' streak?

Apparently so.

While the Lakers, who have been grabbing all the recent headlines, extended their record string to 22 victories, beating Portland 129-114 Tuesday night, the Bucks quietly reeled off their sixth straight triumph, downing Houston 106-96.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Phoenix topped New York 110-100, Seattle trounced Detroit 103-86, Buffalo defeated Philadelphia 117-110, Boston tromped Chicago 116-108, and Cleveland edged Baltimore 88-85.

Los Angeles, unbeaten since Oct. 31, used a balanced attack in subduing Portland. Five Lakers scored at least 20 points, with Wilt Chamberlain and Gail Goodrich leading the way with 24 points apiece. Chamberlain also grabbed 18 rebounds, blocked seven shots and had eight assists.

Jerry West also had a strong game for the Lakers, getting 23 points, 15 assists and seven steals. Sidney Wicks topped Portland with 31 points.

Milwaukee, which established the previous record of 20 straight victories last season en route to the league title, was paced by Oscar Robertson's 29 points. Kareem Jabbar, the defending scoring champion and current leader, chipped in with 25 points for the Bucks.

Phoenix, beating New York for the first time in nine attempts at Madison Square Garden, got 24 points from Neal Walk, 23 from Dennis Layton and 21 apiece from Connie Hawkins and Dick Van Arsdale. Dick Barnett topped the Knicks with 25 points and Walt Frazier had 24, 19 in the final period.

Spencer Haywood returned to Detroit, the city where he starred in high school and college, and fired in 31 points and grabbed 14 rebounds, pacing Seattle's victory over the Pistons. Detroit's Bob Lanier took game scoring honors with 35 points.

Veteran Walt Hazzard's 26 points and rookie Elmore Smith's 23 points, 22 rebounds and eight blocked shots helped Buffalo beat Philadelphia for the first time in five meetings over two seasons. The 76ers' Billy Cunningham led all scorers with 29 points, while teammate Hal Greer scored 17 points and moved into fifth place on the all-time list with 20,883 points.

John Havlicek collected 16 of his 33 points in the third period, helping Boston spurt past Chicago. Bob Love was high for the Bulls with 28 points.

John Warren and Butch Beard each converted two free throws in the final 30 seconds, sealing Cleveland's victory over Baltimore. The Bullets' Archie Clark topped all scorers with 24 points.

Kilmer Named AP's Offensive Player of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've never thought I played a great game," Billy Kilmer insisted. "I'll think I've played a great game if we win the Super Bowl."

Nevertheless, Kilmer did, despite his modesty, play a great game Monday night as he coolly directed Washington to a 38-24 upset over the Los Angeles Rams.

And it got the Redskins into the Super Bowl chase. They can still win the National Conference East title outright with a victory and a Dallas loss next weekend. But even if the Cowboys win, the 'Skins, now 9-3-1, are still playoff-bound by virtue of their best record among divisional runners-up.

"The Rams didn't think much of our passing," Coach George Allen explained, "and that's why we went to passes."

And that passing—completions on 14 of 19 attempts for 240 net yards and three touchdowns in a do-or-die game for the Redskins—brought Kilmer the selection today as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

McDaniels Pours in 39 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Jim McDaniels holding the key to both baskets, the Carolina Cougars pulled within a step of the cellar door and kept Virginia from creeping closer to the penthouse.

McDaniels, Carolina's 7-foot rookie from Western Kentucky, poured in 39 points on one end of the court Tuesday night and hauled down 23 rebounds on the other end to power the Cougars to a 125-121 triumph over the Squires.

That lifted the last-place Cougars within half a game of the Floridians and New York Nets, tied for fourth place in the American Basketball Association's East Division, and left Virginia two games back of the idle, first-place Kentucky Colonels.

In other ABA action, Pittsburgh edged Memphis 130-128, Indiana beat Dallas 107-98 and Denver slipped by the Nets 119-118.

The Cougars led by as many as 21 points before the Squires cut the gap to 117-115 in the closing minutes. But a hot hand at the free throw line kept Carolina in command the rest of the way.

Larry Miller added 27 points and George Lehmann had 24 for the winners while Julius Erving had 30 for Virginia.

Pittsburgh, collecting its fifth successive victory, rallied from a 108-101 fourth-quarter deficit to turn back Memphis as John Brisker pumped in 34 points and George Thompson clicked for 33 for the Condors. Johnny Neumann's 29 topped the Pros.

The Pacers blew a 16-point halftime lead as Dallas moved in front 92-91 with 5:06 to play. But Roger Brown, who finished with 29 points, and Mel Daniels, who had 27, quickly put Indiana back in front and in control the rest of the way. Steve Jones led the Chaparrals with 24.

The biggest individual effort of the night came from Rick Barry of the Nets, who canned a tremendous 48 points. But Ralph Simpson countered with 42 for the Rockets, including the decisive two on a tie-breaking 20-footer with 23 seconds to play.

Champs May Change Weight Divisions

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Jose Naples and Ruben Olivares, the two boxing world champions from Mexico City, could be forced into higher weight divisions unless there's a surge of talent in their divisions.

Napoles, weighing 145½, outpointed fleet Hedgemon Lewis, 144¾, of Los Angeles, Tuesday night to successfully defend his welterweight title. Olivares, the bantamweight champion, knocked his foe into retirement.

Jesus Pimentel, 116¼, from Mexicali, Mexico, fought gamely but was outgunned by the 118-pound Olivares, and his manager called a halt after 11 rounds.

"That was his last fight," said Manager Harry Kabakoff who had rushed into the ring to declare, "Ruben, you're still the champion."

Pimentel, 31, had waited nearly a decade for his title shot and his punches hurt Olivares early in the fight but after the champion decked him in the sixth, the issue wasn't much in doubt.

Now Napoles and Olivares must look to new foes after collecting their $90,000 each for this title defense before 14,713 fans.

Coco Conde, the manager of Napoles, said they'd wait two or three months for any decision but the 31-year-old king of the 147 pounders has said he'd like to meet middleweight champion Carlos Monzon of Argentina.

Olivares could next meet Rafael Herrera of Mexico, the No. 2 rated challenger in the 118-pound division, but he's also indicated interest in meeting Japanese featherweight Kuniaki Shibata and moving up a notch in the weight classes.

Turnover Nice But Not in Basketball

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

In this holiday season of huge dinners and luscious desserts, turnovers are nice to have. Unless, of course, you happen to be the coach of the college basketball team serving them.

Navy, Columbia and South Florida all gave their coaches tough moments from too many turnovers Tuesday night.

Navy bowed to 18th-ranked Princeton 73-58, Columbia went down, 88-70 against Fordham and Florida whacked South Florida 98-77 on a light schedule Tuesday night. Eighth-ranked St. John's, the only member of the Top Ten teams in action, needed an overtime period to subdue American University 83-76.

In other major games, Massachusetts nipped Connecticut 69-67, Villanova routed Merrimack 108-77, Hofstra dropped Manhattan 69-60, Purdue ripped Indiana State 106-84, Cincinnati topped Bowling Green 83-72 and Davidson routed Richmond 100-66.

The Midshipment of Navy committed 26 turnovers and Princeton took advantage of most of them to roll to an easy victory. Brian Taylor and Ted Manakas scored 18 points apiece as the Tigers rolled to their fourth victory in five starts.

Columbia scored the game's first six points but Fordham countered with the next 13 and rolled over the Lions. Ken Charles led the attack with 17 points including six during the early spurt. Columbia contributed to its own downfall with 35 turnovers.

South Florida folded under a relentless Florida press that forced 23 turnovers in the first half as the Gators romped. Tom Miller and Jerry Hoover led the attack with 25 points apiece.

Mel Davis drilled in 33 points and grabbed 21 rebounds to help unbeaten St. John's overcome American U. Greg Cluess' basket with just under three minutes left in overtime, put the Redmen on top to stay. Kermit Washington paced the losers with 30 points and 20 rebounds.

The University of Buffalo ran its home-court unbeaten string to 23 straight with a 112-91 thrashing of Ohio Northern. Neil Langelier led the victory with 26 points.

Villanova's Hank Siemiontkowski celebrated his 21st birthday by scoring 25 points and grabbing 11 rebounds in the Wildcats' victory over Merrimack.

Iowa State set a school scoring record with a 106-85 victory over Illinois State. Tom O'Connor's 19 points led five players in double figures as Iowa State erased the school scoring record of 105 set gainst Oklahoma 16 years ago.

Massachusetts converted nine consecutive free throws in the last three minutes to squeeze by Connecticut. John Betancourt's 26 points paced the winners.

Redskins' Coach Celebrates Win Over LA Rams

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Allen usually drinks milk, but this time the occasion called for a little more.

The Washington Redskins' head coach met his weekly news conference Tuesday with two bottles of champagne.

"It isn't often we can celebrate," he said, referring to Monday's decisive 38-24 National Football League victory over the Los Angeles Rams. The triumph put the Redskins in the playoffs for the first time since 1945.

"We had nine bottles on the plane coming back and each guy got a little swig," Allen said of the bubbly. When he opened a bottle for the newsmen, it popped, causing Allen to say, "That sounds like it has another win in it."

It also may have been no coincidence that the champagne was Chateau du George.

Hogs Prepare for Bowl Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks worked out for 90 minutes Tuesday in preparation for Monday night's Liberty Bowl game with Tennessee.

The Porkers practiced in shoulder pads and sweat clothes and mostly worked on timing.

"We've got to get better," said Coach Frank Broyles following the workout.

The weather cooperated with the Razorbacks and Broyles said this helped. He said quarterbacks Joe Ferguson and Walter Nelson "profited by getting to go outside."

The offense put in some extra time on the punting game, apparently because of the punt-returning threat of Tennessee's Bobby Majors.

Congress Turns to Money Bills

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After sending President Nixon legislation extending his economic powers, Congress is tackling a clutter of money bills in hopes of adjourning today.

The bill continuing Nixon's authority over wages, prices and rents through April 30, 1973, got final approval by voice votes in the Senate and House Tuesday.

It contains a provision which sponsors said would release most previously negotiated wage increases frozen during the initial phase of anti-inflation controls.

Nixon wanted this decision left to the Pay Board, but he nevertheless was expected to sign the bill that provides the essential machinery he requested for administration of Phase 2.

A last-minute threat to the bill was eliminated Tuesday when a hastily reconvened Senate-House conference cut out a provision that had been ruled extraneous. It would have allowed top salaries of Congress' employes to be increased from $36,000 to $38,000.

The Senate passed a compromise election-reform bill by voice vote Tuesday, but the House deferred consideration until the next session starting Jan. 18.

The money bills jeopardizing adjournment provide financing for the Defense Department, the District of Columbia and the foreign-aid program for the fiscal year already half gone.

The major stumbling block is a hassle over how much the federal government should contribute to the District of Columbia budget and financing of a subway system in the capital.

A compromise $71-billion defense appropriation won tentative House approval Tuesday. But a formal vote to send it to the Senate was delayed until today because of the absence of a quorum.

The Hope Ladies Golf Association had an Awards Dinner Thursday, December 9 at the Hope Country Club, which was decorated with holly and red candles. Santa Claus, greenery and the 19th hole were seen on the head table, and Jerry O'Neal acted as Master of Ceremonies.

In the Ringer Tournament, 1st place went to Mrs. Earl Lockett, and most improved to Mrs. J.W. Smith. In the Hope L.G.S. Future Is Guessing Game, Past Is Not

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The future is a guessing game.

The past is not. That's why so many people often prefer it to the future. You have been enriched by the pleasant things that happened to you in the past. The more memories you have, the greater is your life.

You've had a pretty full life if you can look and remember when—

It took a kid with a pretty good stomach to digest a dime's worth of penny candy.

One of the delights a little girl had in searching through the attic was to find and play with an old-fashioned painted fan.

Practically every other prosperous farmer in the Midwest had a tin box in which he kept his worthless shares of oil and mining stocks—paper testimonials of collapsed get-rich-quick dreams.

One of the certainties of a 10-year-old boy's life was the belief that, if he picked up a hop-toad under a street light at night, when he woke up the next morning his fingers would be covered with warts. But frogs didn't do that to a fellow.

Everybody in town felt sorry and kind of startled when the undertaker's wife died of pneumonia during the great flu epidemic. Somehow you had never thought death would touch the member of an undertaker's family.

Grandpa thought the younger generation had gone to hell when his son bought an alarm clock to be sure he got to his factory job on time. All Grandpa had ever needed to wake up and face his farm chores was the sound of a rooster in the barnyard saluting the rising sun.

The average man in America was more likely to inherit debts than dollars.

Most of the letters in a congressman's mail ended with a request for free garden seeds.

It was said of America that it was a land where a typical family went "from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves" in three generations.

When a young fellow came back home with a college degree, all the neighbors wondered whether it had ruined him for honest work.

If a fellow didn't trust his local doctor, he could always take the sage advice of his local druggist and buy a bottle of cure-all patent medicine for 95 cents. It tasted so bad he knew it must do him some good.

Even if a fellow thought hard all day long, it was hard for him to think up a good reason for staying up after midnight except on Saturdays.

Those were the days—remember?

North Vietnam Slows Effort to Resupply Troops

WASHINGTON AP) — North Vietnam's dry-season effort to resupply its troops in South Vietnam and Cambodia is only about half as big as it was at this time last year, Pentagon sources say.

According to the latest assessments, the North Vietnamese have moved less than 4,000 tons of arms, ammunition and other supplies into the road network running through southern Laos in the first 10 weeks of the annual resupply drive.

The level of this effort has been rising, however, and officials say the North Vietnamese have massed enough stocks in their country's panhandle to mount a strong supply push into the Laotian pipeline in the months ahead, if they choose to do so.

President Nixon said last month he and his aides will be watching the degree of enemy activity and infiltration very carefully in December and January before making another announcement covering future withdrawal of U.S. troops from the war.

"If the level of enemy activity and infiltration substantially increases," Nixon has said, "it could be very dangerous to our sharply decreasing forces in South Vietnam."

Analysts surveying the relatively low level of supply shipments from North Vietnam into the Laotian road net speculate the enemy could be planning to limit attacks during this dry season, perhaps to hasten the U.S. troop pullout.

Another theory holds that the North Vietnamese may be attempting to hold down the tonnage of stores in southern Laos to avoid heavy losses if the South Vietnamese again send troops to interdict the Ho Chi Minh trail, as happened last winter.

Wants to Buy Fla. Baseball, Hockey Teams

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — An Oklahoma group has expressed strong interest in buying Jacksonville's basebal franchise in the Southern League and, possibly, the city's Eastern Hockey League team.

Both would continue to operate here.

Jim Bruno of Oklahoma City said Tuesday he and associates Don Demeter and Mike Brumley have approval of the Southern League to buy the Suns baseball team from Marshall Fox of Jacksonville

Bombers Hit Targets Deep in N. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers made their deepest attack into North Vietnam this year on Monday, hitting a missle battery 210 miles north of the demilitarized zone, the U.S. Command reported today.

It said two Navy A7 jets fired two missiles at the antiaircraft site about 145 miles south of Hanoi after a surface-to-air missile was fired at them.

There was no damage to the American planes, the command said, and they returned safely to the carrier Constellation in the Tonkin Gulf.

Results of the attacks were not known because of low clouds, the command said, but the U.S. missiles homed on the enemy's radar signal. The raid was the 96th inside North Vietnam this year. It was carried out 50 miles northwest of the coastal city of Vinh "in the vicinity of Quang Lang air field," the command said. Antiaircraft batteries on the field were attacked by U.S. planes Nov. 8 in a strike 48 miles northwest of Vinh.

Meanwhile, South Vietnam's commander in eastern Cambodia claimed today that his forces and America's B52 bombers have badly mauled two North Vietnamese regiments and drawn a third away from Cambodian troops to the west.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh said the 272nd Regiment of North Vietnam's 9th Division had moved away from Highway 6 on the western side of the Mekong River to north of the Chup rubber plantation east of the river.

Minh said his forces are sweeping through the plantation used by the enemy as a base camp 35 miles from South Vietnam's border, and that B52s are saturating it with bombs.

But there has still been no major fighting since 6,000 South Vietnamese troops invaded the 75-square-mile plantation three days ago in their deepest drive into Cambodia in nearly a year.

The drive is part of a 25,000-man South Vietnamese offensive launched Nov. 22.

While Minh said only one enemy regiment had moved away from the Cambodian forces to help defend the Chup plantation, the Cambodian command in Phnom Penh reported that two enemy regiments had withdrawn to engage the South Vietnamese.

Lt. Col. Am Rong, the Cambodian command's spokesman, said that a third North Vietnamese regiment is withdrawing southward away from Phnom Penh, relieving pressure on the capital, and fighting remains at a low level.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command announced that a search is under way for a small U.S. Army plane that crashed off the coast Tuesday during stormy weather on a flight from Phu Bai to Da Nang. Five Americans and two Vietnamese are missing.

Challenge Court Authority in Prison Reform

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton was urged Tuesday by a caucus of members of the American Party of Arkansas to challenge federal court authority to "supersede" state powers in the management of Arkansas' prisons.

The caucus asked Thornton to petition the U.S. Supreme Court to question the authority of District Judge J. Smith Henley, who has ordered penal officials to take steps to improve both the state penitentiary and the Pulaski County Penal Farm.

American party members from 40 counties attended the caucus in Little Rock, according to a news release issued afterward.

The release also said the caucus recommended that Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Department of Finance and Administration, be returned to his teaching position at the University of Arkansas and that Gov. Dale Bumpers halt "the indiscriminate transfer of revenues" between state agency accounts.

The caucus, according to the release, condemned Milam for using $1.8 million in balances in the welfare funds to pay off "questionable deficits" of Arkansas AM&N College.

It said the deficit was the result of an inadequacy of supervision of the college, and that debt claims against the school should have been submitted to the state Claims Commission rather than being left to Milam's department to approve.

The caucus also:

-- Said the Arkansas Council on Human Relations had infiltrated the administration of Bumpers and former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and the staffs of Thornton and Pros. Atty. James Guy Tucker Jr. of Little Rock.

-- Deplored the opposition of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to the Supreme Court nomination of William H. Rehnquist.

— Called on Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., to take steps to remove the tax exemptions given foundations "that are using their funds to incite racial antagonisms and otherwise create friction in our nation.

Dollar Dips on Foreign Markets

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar dropped sharply to new record lows on major foreign exchange markets today in expectation of devaluation soon. Trading was heavy.

Dealers attributed the dollar's weakness and the heavy trading to the announcement Tuesday that President Nixon is willing to devalue the dollar as part of a general realignment of the leading non-Communist currencies.

The record lows included 599.601 lire in Italy, 321.9 yen in Tokyo, 3.8700.3.8775 Swiss francs in Zurich, and 5.30 francs on the Paris free market.

The rate in Frankfurt was also down, to 3.2485 marks, but still above the record there of 3.236.

The announcement after Nixon's two-day meeting with President Georges Pompidou of France gave no indication what the new exchange rates would be. But the market place, where most currencies have been traded freely since August without government intervention to maintain them within fixed limits, has already given some indication of what the new fixed rates will look like.

In today's trading, major foreign currencies had increased in value against the dollar since August by the following amounts: British pound, 5 per cent; French Franc, 4.7 per cent; Swiss franc, 5.1 per cent; Japanese yen, 11.8 per cent, and Italian lire, about 3 per cent.

The West German mark has been traded freely since the currency crisis last spring and has increased in value more than 12 per cent.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Savannah was the first ship to use steam in crossing any ocean. The World Almanac notes that the 98½-foot fully rigged sailing vessel departed from Savannah, Ga., May 22, 1819, and arrived in Liverpool, England, in 29 days. During the crossing its 90-horsepower auxiliary steam engine was used for about 105 hours.

Off hand, it looks as if South can overcome the bad trump break, but that the 4-1 club break will doom his grand slam. Chuck Lamprey of White Plains had no trouble bringing home the contract.

He won the trump lead in his hand and led a diamond to dummy's ace. Then he returned to his hand with the ace of hearts in order to ruff one losing diamond. Back to his hand again with a club in order to ruff his last diamond. Then he ran off his last three trumps while discarding a heart and club from dummy.

About this time East started to show signs of extreme discomfort. Dummy was down to king-10 of hearts and ace-eight of clubs while Chuck held the seven of hearts and three clubs to the king. Poor East couldn't hang on to three clubs and the queen and jack of hearts and was stonecold dead.

Chuck was lucky to run into the end situation but it was the sort of luck that good players have. He would not have needed the squeeze if clubs had broken and his line of play had given this extra chance.

The unusual feature of this hand is that it was played in a team match in the Long Island regional. Bill Passell of New York who sat North predicted that on the replay his wife Marietta who would hold the South cards at the other table would also reach seven spades and make it.

Bill and Marietta are both great players and Bill certainly knows how his wife bids and plays. She did bid the slam and did make it.

Red Wings Win Over Canucks in NHL Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Life begins at 40 for Alex Delvecchio of the Detroit Red Wings.

The veteran center, who just turned 40 Dec. 4 and seems to improve with age, collected four assists in powering the Wings to a 4-3 National Hockey League victory over the Vancouver Canucks Tuesday night. In the only other game, Toronto topped St. Louis 4-2.

Delvecchio, in his 21st season with Detroit, set up a pair of goals by Mickey Redmond and also assisted on tallies by Gary Bergman and Al Karlander.

Dale Tallon kept Vancouver in contention with two goals and Dave Balon produced the other Canucks' marker.

Redmond's goals came 24 seconds apart in the middle period and gave the Wings a 2-1 lead entering the finale. Tallon's second goal tied the score and Bergman's rebound put Detroit ahead 3-2.

Delvecchio then set up Karlander with the winning goal at 14:44, flipping a back-handed pass to his winger, who found the left-hand corner behind Vancouver goalie George Gardner.

A SOURCE OF PRIDE

HOUSTON (AP) — A Wisconsin researcher says the role of the grandchild in our society is significant because the child is a source of pride and comfort to his grandparents.

Dr. Vivian Wood of the School of Social Work University of Wisconsin says she arrived at this conclusion after making studies of 257 grandparents.

Youth Killed by British Patrol in N. Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A British patrol shot and killed a 16-year-old boy early today after the youth aimed a gun at it, British army headquarters reported.

A spokesman said Martin McShane was climbing a fence into a playing field at Coalisland, in County Tyrone, when the soldiers spotted him.

He said the boy saw the soldiers, aimed at them, and the troops opened fire.

About 40 angry people surrounded the body in the early morning darkness and refused to let the soldiers near it. They called an ambulance which took the body away, the spokesman said.

The youth's death was the 197th in 28 months of violence in Northern Ireland.

In London, an authoritative Catholic body said "the vicious circle of violence and counter-violence" in Northern Ireland can only be broken by a political soultion.

The Catholic Commission for International Justice and Peace, which advises Catholic bishops of England and Wales, declared: "Immediate steps are therefore needed to give the Catholic community a just share in the exercise of political power."
